

Belluno, Emotional Therapy World Capital

1-3 october 2021

22nd International Society for Bonding Psychotherapy Conference (ISBP)

Hotel Da Benito, Ponte nelle Alpi (BL).

1-3 October 2021: Specialists from all over the world rejoice, for the second time, in Belluno, to talk, from a scientist's approach, about how emotional communication benefits interpersonal relationships and energizes the brain.

Emotions renew relations, sedated by the virus, it relaxes and creates intimacy and a sense of belonging.

And so Belluno becomes, again, the world capital of emotions.

The specialists are the ones from the International Society for Bonding Psychotherapy (ISBP) and are from: Argentina, Belgium, Germany, Netherlands, Portugal, Slovenia the United States and other countries.

The conference, organized at Hotel Benito, in Pian di Vedoia, and in Giovanni XXIII prestigious Conference room in downtown Belluno, will be organized by Fondazione Progetto Uomo. Fondazione has been working since 2006, for families and the community, counting of a professional team of Operators and Volunteers.

The conference is titled "Being In Touch Again", with a clear connection to the turbulent times we are experiencing and the social, personal and national problems caused by the CoVid pandemic.

Exactly 20 years after Belluno hosted a previous ISBP conference, the city is again the venue for the international congress. Not a casual choice, but directly chosen by ISBP's Board of Directors, that recognizes Fondazione Progetto Uomo's effort in implementing in Italy the methodology and philosophy of Bonding Psychotherapy in favor of groups and people in need and holding formation and corporate emotional counseling.

Bonding Psychotherapy.

Emotional Therapy or Bonding Psychotherapy, was developed in the 1960s and 70s by the American psychiatrist and psychoanalyst Dr. Daniel Casriel.

It is social learning, based upon the recognition and expression of emotions, the development of positive attitudes toward yourself and others and the practice of new behaviors.

Bonding is the fundamental importance of the human biological need of closeness, physically and emotionally, to others.

Bonding Psychotherapy was further developed by Dr. Konrad Strauss, to include further psycho-social needs, such as attachment, autonomy and self-esteem.

In the following newsletters...

...we will discuss the main themes and protagonists of the conference, but mainly, we will discover Fondazione Progetto Uomo, to shed light on the effort and activity of Ceis and Fondazione Progetto Uomo, locally and for the community.

Following us is a real emotion.
